DAN CLARK'S MESSAGE

December, 2021

To Our Friends,

2021 has been a challenging year for Prudential Overall Supply with the continuation of COVID, supply chain shortages, and a shortage of labor to name a few issues. My dad, our founder, told me there would be situations that would knock you down and you would have had no way to have prepared for them; COVID and its repercussions are just that. His advice was to get back up, persevere, and make quick and appropriate decisions which would address the situation.

It looks like POS will exceed its 2021 revenue and sales plan and make its 2021 profit plan. Today Prudential has 18 plants and 14 service centers located in 14 states. We deliver from these locations to 35 states in POS trucks. Our nearly 2,000 employees will generate over 200 million dollars' worth of service to our customers in 2021.

Prudential will celebrate its 90th anniversary April 11th, 2022. It is quite an accomplishment for a little company that generated $4.86 in revenue its very first week of service in 1932. I know my dad would be very proud of all the accomplishments POS has made over these 90 years. It has been a team effort of everyone working together to take care of our customers; I extend a big "thank you" to all our employees, customers, and suppliers who continue to make Prudential successful and sustainable.

At this time of year, I cherish the privilege of expressing the company's sincere thanks to each of our employees, customers, suppliers, and friends for the meaningful things they have done for us in 2021, and to extend our heartfelt best wishes for 2022. It is my hope that we may keep the holiday spirit of faith, love, and goodwill towards all alive throughout the year. May God grant each of you joy, peace, and happiness in this holiday season and coming year.

Merry Christmas to All!

DAN CLARK (09/23/68) Chairman of the Board

Diciembre de 2021

Queridos amigos:

Este 2021 ha sido un año desafiante para Prudential Overall Supply con la continuidad de COVID, la escasez de la cadena de suministro así como de la mano de obra, por nombrar algunos problemas. Mi papá, nuestro fundador, me dijo que habría situaciones que te tratarían de derribar y que no hubieras tenido forma de prepararte para ellas; COVID y sus repercusiones son solo eso. Su consejo siempre era levantarse, perseverar y tomar decisiones rápidas y apropiadas que abordarían la situación.

Por lo visto POS superará su plan de ingresos y ventas para 2021 y hará su plan de ganancias para 2021. En la actualidad, Prudential tiene 18 plantas y 14 centros de servicio ubicados en 14 estados. Entregamos desde estas ubicaciones a 35 estados en camiones POS. Nuestros casi 2,000 empleados generarán más de 200 millones de dólares en servicio a nuestros clientes en 2021.

Prudential celebrará su 90 aniversario el 11 de abril de 2022. Es un gran logro para una pequeña empresa que generó $ 4.86 de ingresos en su primera semana de servicio en 1932. Sé que mi papá estaría muy orgulloso de todos los logros que POS ha logrado estos 90 años. Ha sido un esfuerzo de equipo de todos trabajando juntos para cuidar a nuestros clientes; Extiendo un gran "muchas gracias" a todos nuestros empleados, clientes y proveedores que continúan haciendo de Prudential un éxito y una sostenibilidad.

En estas épocas del año, aprecio el privilegio de poder expresarles mi más sincero agradecimiento de parte de la compañía a cada uno de nuestros empleados, clientes, proveedores y amigos por las tantas cosas significativas que han hecho por nosotros en 2021, y extender nuestros más sinceros deseos para 2022. Es mi esperanza que podamos mantener vivo el espíritu navideño de fe, amor y buena voluntad hacia todos durante todo el año. Que Dios les conceda a cada uno de ustedes gozo, paz y felicidad en esta temporada festiva y el año que viene.

A MESSAGE ABOUT SAFETY...

Congratulations to the Phoenix plant for maintaining their OSHA VPP Certification! Showing that despite adversity they can continue to focus on the safety of their employees. After all the hard work they celebrated their recertification with all the employees and the invited Arizona OSHA representatives.

Not to be out done, the Portland Cleanroom celebrated their own achievement of one entire year without a recordable injury! Well done Portland team, thank you and congratulations!

Over the summer, the Riverside plant celebrated their commitment to the safety program with games, food, and prizes.

The STOP committee and 3 subcommittees introduced themselves to new and tenured employees and recruited employees to join them. A total of 10 employees signed up to join a committee and actively engage the safety program.

5 carnival games were set up to teach the importance work-place safety. Prizes and gift cards were raffled off to 10 lucky employees who participated in the event.

Congrats Phoenix Plant on VPP Certification!

The Arizona Division of Occupational Safety and Health Consultation Department presented Prudential with its VPP Designation on October 8, 2021. The Arizona Division of Occupational Safety and Health (ADOSH) Consultation Department presented Prudential, with its "STAR Site" designation through the Voluntary Protection Program, "VPP." Companies and jobsites that are awarded the STAR designation demonstrate exemplary and comprehensive safety and health management systems.

ADOSH held a VPP Ceremony at Prudential's Phoenix, AZ plant where the location was recertified as a STAR site and presented with a VPP plaque and flag. Dale Schultz, Industrial Commission of Arizona Chairman, had this to say regarding the significance of achieving VPP status and its importance to the State of Arizona:

"Maintaining VPP isn't easy, and that's on purpose. At the Industrial Commission of Arizona, we want to make sure that those who achieve VPP, and maintain it, are really all in on workplace safety. This means changing what it means to have a safe workplace and changing the culture surrounding workplace safety. By investing the time and energy Prudential Overall Supply has into maintaining their VPP status, they are showing Arizona, their customers, and most importantly their workforce that their employees are their most important resource and they're willing to go above and beyond to protect them."

VPP is the Occupational Safety and Health Administration's (OSHA) highest program of recognition across the United States. It recognizes employers and workers in private and federal workplaces who have exemplified effective safety and health management systems. On average a VPP Star worksite has a Days Away Restricted or Transferred (DART) case rate of 50% below the average for its industry.

To qualify for VPP status, employers must apply to OSHA, have at least three consecutive years of incident rates below industry average and undergo an onsite evaluation by a team of safety and health professionals. VPP participants and sites earning the "STAR Site" designation is re-evaluated every three to five years to remain in the program. VPP participants are exempt from OSHA programmed inspections while they maintain their VPP status.

Currently, only 64 Arizona companies out of more than 176,000 are VPP "Stars."

2021 MPTP MEETING

MANAGEMENT POTENTIAL TRAINING PROGRAM

As Prudential recognized a need to develop future leaders for the company, the Management Potential Training Program (MPTP) was launched as a fast-track program to educate individuals about our business and expose them to leadership principles. The program moves these MPTPs through training in production, service and sales during a year-long period. Our MPTPs bring strong academic backgrounds as university graduates along with outside work experience from a number of fields.

Many of today's leaders at Prudential have come from the MPTP program, including our President, Chris Welch. Several of our other leadership roles have also been filled by MPTPs, including General Managers, Assistant General Managers, Sales & Service Managers, District Sales Managers, Director of Operations and Plant Managers. The success of the program has made a great impact to our business. We look forward to continuing this program as one of the many ways that Prudential invests in its people. Developing all employees to reach their full potential is an important part of our company's mission and the MPTP program is an excellent example of how we are building for the future.

PRUDENTIAL OVERALL SUPPLY: A MODEL FOR 'GREEN' OPERATIONS

Prudential Overall's office staff in Riverside, CA, celebrate the company's Clean Green certification renewal.

Prudential Overall Supply remains the largest U.S. uniform and facility services company to be TRSA Clean Green certified. The Irvine, CA-based operation received this distinction when the program began in 2012 and recently maintained it by earning its third three-year recertification. The achievement reflects the company's continued dedication to operational efficiency and sustainability, reflected in its adherence to TRSA-designated water and energy use thresholds and best-management practices (BMPs) consistent with the ASTM International environmental laundering standard.

Long heralded for exemplary performance in conserving resources and controlling laundry wastewater discharges, Prudential was the first chain industrial laundry operation to be honored with the Clean Green designation. Throughout the early 2000s, as the industry developed benchmarks for measuring such efforts, Prudential had proven its above-average capabilities in minimizing a laundry's carbon footprint.

The certification assures Prudential customers their workwear, towels, walk-off mats and other products are washed, dried and finished with processes that maximize sustainability and reduce greenhouse emissions. Clean Green-certified operations demonstrate significant commitment to conservation and green operations through these BMPs:

- Recovering heat from drained hot water and heat dispersed from the process of warming water
- Recapturing drained water from rinses for reuse
- Using environmentally friendly detergents
- Removing solids and liquids from wastewater
- Solar energy and energy-efficient lighting
- Recycling programs
- Re-routing trucks to save vehicle fuel
- Spill prevention plans

The Clean Green certification is valid for three years at a time. TRSA inspects laundry facilities seeking certification and approves documentation of their water and energy use and BMP deployment through production reports they submit to auditors during the inspections. TRSA's certification management protocol includes auditor training by the association's inspection program administrator.

Clean Green aligns with the ASTM International standard, Guide for Sustainable Laundry Practices, which recognizes key criteria for the certification as universal indicators of maximum sustainability in commercial laundry work. ASTM's review of TRSA BMPs verified these as the most effective and practical techniques for a laundry to achieve green objectives.

TRSA members prompted development of the standard, which was vetted in the sustainability subcommittee of the ASTM Committee on Textiles. Top technical experts, scientists and environmental professionals from outside the linen, uniform and facility services industry reviewed the BMPs. ASTM is the global leader in developing and delivering voluntary consensus standards unparalleled in building consumer confidence in product and service quality.

"I applaud Prudential for their sustainability efforts and maintaining the highest standards in their production and delivery operations," said Joseph Ricci, TRSA president and CEO. "Meeting all the criteria for certification is not easy, but Prudential is committed to industry-leading processes and technologies."

PRUDENTIAL OVERALL SUPPLY A TRSA CLEAN GREEN CERTIFIED COMPANY COMMEMORATES EARTH DAY

April 22, 2021, Prudential Overall Supply, an industry leader in reusable image work apparel and related textiles, commemorates Earth Day. As a TRSA (Textile Rental Service Association) Clean Green certified company, Prudential Overall Supply customers can count on Prudential to support their green initiatives.

Prudential supports our customers efforts to conserve natural resources in their business operations which only helps control costs (improving sustainability), and ultimately, helps all of us protect the planet.

Prudential contends that all businesses can be similarly conscientious and prove through third-party verification (equivalent to Clean Green certification) where applicable that they conduct business in an environmentally friendly manner. Such companies' dedication to conserving resources indicates they are prepared for scarcity.

Prudential is a proud contributor to our customers sustainability efforts, and as we recognize Earth Day, we hope our customers will consider supporting all available efforts to help protect our planet.

ABOUT MPTP - MANAGEMENT POTENTIAL TRAINING PROGRAM

As Prudential recognized a need to develop future leaders for the company, the Management Potential Training Program (MPTP) was launched as a fast-track program to educate individuals about our business and expose them to leadership principles. The program moves these MPTPs through training in production, service and sales during a year-long period. Our MPTPs bring strong academic backgrounds as university graduates along with outside work experience from a number of fields.

Many of today's leaders at Prudential have come from the MPTP program, including our President, Chris Welch. Several of our other leadership roles have also been filled by MPTPs, including General Managers, Assistant General Managers, Sales & Service Managers, District Sales Managers, Regional Directors and Plant Managers. The success of the program has made a great impact to our business. We look forward to continuing this program as one of the many ways that Prudential invests in its people. Developing all employees to reach their full potential is an important part of our company's mission and the MPTP program is an excellent example of how we are building for the future.

I was searching for an opportunity where I can grow and learn. That is when I found Prudential or as I like to say Prudential found me. After hearing the type of opportunities, they had to offer I thought to myself this is too good to be true. I was gladly mistaken, because while in the program and learning everything from production to sales in the garment business I got to meet and learn from former MPTP's like myself. What I saw from those former MPTP's was that the opportunities are there for the taken if you show hard work and dedication anything is possible. I can not wait to be in their shoes in the future.

Bryan Lara started with Prudential in January 2021 where he began his Management Potential Trainee Program at the Cleanroom Los Angeles (P15).

In my final semester of college, from Cal State Los Angeles, I began searching for internships and trainee programs to which I could apply to. I came across Prudential's MPTP program which piqued my interest because my mom was currently working there and she had mentioned great things about the job and the company in previous conversations. I applied and that's when my Prudential story commenced.

One of my favorite things about Prudential has to be the culture of the company. Everyone that I've come across within the company whether it be the CEO, Vice President, GM etc. has been genuinely interested and helpful in my development and have provided an open door policy, creating an environment where I feel as a valued employee.

Nearly a year now in the program and the company, I've learned a lot and I'm excited to continue to learn and grow as my career progresses within Prudential, along with the opportunity to build relationships with all the amazing people that make this company great!

MATTHEW JARRETT
MPTP
Corporate Services

I started with Prudential as an MPTP back in January of 2021. I was blessed to find out about the position through indeed a couple of weeks after graduating college.

When I started I didn't know what to expect. There is no job description as an MPTP. So through the training it was on me to make the best of my experience so that I may be successful in the long run. The best thing to do as an MPTP is make like a sponge and just soak up as much information as you can. Along with realizing that you always have to be a student here. There is never a day that I don't learn something new, whether it be from my mentors, our customers, or something I discovered whilst exploring one of our many software tools at our disposal.

The most important thing I have learned in my time as an MPTP is that there is limitless support with this company. Someone will always answer that late night phone call and someone is always willing to help. I have never worked with a company that has cultivated such a familial environment and it is truly a blessing to be a part of.

As an MPTP I got my service training from Joe Perry and Raymond Buck, my sales training from Tim DeShazor, and my Cleanroom training from Casey Starr. I am so thankful to them for the time they took to coach and train me and I look forward to learning as much from them as I can. This program had its fair share of difficulties but learning the best ways to overcome them is what this program is all about.

I have learned so much as an MPTP and I look forward to continuing my career with Prudential.

PRUDENTIAL AT 89: GROWING STRONGER IN A 'CHALLENGING YEAR'

JOHN CLARK
(08/31/2009) CEO, speaks at a TRSA Next-Generation Executives
meeting.

Prudential Overall Supply, Irvine, CA, recently marked its 89th anniversary. The family-owned and operated independent has made remarkable progress since its founding in 1932 by John D. Clark as a one-man operation. Today, Prudential is a nationally branded industrial operator that serves some 28,000 customers from coast to coast.

Last year, Clark's grandson, also named John Clark, succeeded his father, Dan Clark, as CEO. Dan continues to serve as company chairman. The younger Clark says he's grateful to many associates in the industry that helped Prudential achieve growth in the past year, despite the COVID-19 pandemic.

"Prudential Overall Supply is proud to be able to celebrate our 89th anniversary this year," John Clark said. "One of our main objectives each year is to close the year stronger as a company, so we can better support our customers. Through much effort from our employees and suppliers, we believe we were able to achieve this in a challenging year. This is a testament to the strength and flexibility of our organization." Clark added that, "We thank every supplier for their dependability, every customer for the trust they instill in Prudential, and we are ever grateful to each employee for their hard work and effort, so that we can best serve our customers."

In a Textile Services magazine interview last year after he became CEO, Clark said he planned to continue the company's successful growth strategy, including promoting staff from within. Examples include Chris Welch, a 25-year nonfamily manager whom Clark tapped to serve as president. Welch succeeded Tom Watts, another nonfamily executive who served 20 years as president. "A lot of Prudential's top management works through the ranks in the organization," Clark said, noting his own journey up the ladder, which included significant experience outside the company. With Prudential, Clark completed a 10-year executive-training process, beginning in sales/service. He later advanced to plant and regional management posts, general manager, regional director and more before his appointment as CEO.

PRUDENTIAL OVERALL SUPPLY FEATURED IN AMERICAN LAUNDRY NEWS

Prudential Overall Supply celebrates 89th anniversary

IRVINE, Calif. — Prudential Overall Supply, an industry leader in reusable image work apparel and related textiles based here, is celebrating its 89th anniversary.

Founded by John D. Clark in 1932, Prudential has grown from a one-man operation to a national brand serving more than 28,000 customers throughout North America.

Prudential's third-generation CEO, John Clark, says, "Prudential Overall Supply is proud to be able to celebrate our 89th anniversary this year.

"One of our main objectives each year is to close the year stronger as a company so we can better support our customers. Through much effort from our employees and suppliers, we believe we were able to achieve this in a challenging year. This is a testament to the strength and flexibility of our organization.

"We thank every supplier for their dependability, every customer for the trust they instill in Prudential, and we are ever grateful to each employee for their hard work and effort, so that we can best serve our customers."

Family-owned and -operated since 1932, Prudential Overall Supply says it is dedicated to enhancing its customers' images at the best dollar value. By providing premium quality workwear and safety uniforms, career apparel and casual wear, classroom garb and related services, Prudential says it can outfit entire organizations.

LAUNDRY EMPLOYEE TRAINING IN A COVID-19 WORLD - FOUR EXPERTS TALK EFFECTIVE TRAINING METHODS

CHICAGO — David Griggs, general manager of Superior Linen Service's Healthcare Division in Muskogee, Oklahoma, says two common issues that most laundries face are employee turnover and employee accidents.

"While no program can completely stop either issue, you can go a long way toward solving these issues with a good continual employee training program," he says.

"Unorganized facilities create employee frustration that usually leads to both turnover and accidents. They also generally produce a poor quality product that gets sent to their customers."

Add in the COVID-19 pandemic, and training laundry employees can be challenging at best.

American Laundry News communicated about effective laundry employee training today with Griggs; SYLVIA WILLIAMS (03/11/2013) Human Resources Manager for Prudential Overall Supply headquartered in Irvine, California; Tommy Cocanougher, Director-Operations Engineering for Cintas Corp.; and Deana A. Griffin, president of The Griffin Group Inc. in Staunton, Virginia.

In Part 1, the experts talked about the effects of the pandemic on training. This time, they discuss training methods.

DESCRIBE SOME OF THE MORE EFFECTIVE METHODS OF LAUNDRY EMPLOYEE TRAINING.

WILLIAMS: At Prudential, we have found that the most effective method to train our employees is by pairing them up with a knowledgeable buddy. The "Buddy System," as we refer to it, provides them hands-on training with someone who is a subject matter expert in that skill.

The employees may also find it less intimidating to approach their assigned "Buddy" with questions if they do not understand a process. We encourage our new hires to ask questions and provide them ongoing effective feedback during the training process.

COCANOUGHER: In one-on-one training, don't just explain "how" but explain "why." Teach what happens if the task is not correctly completed and the impact both upstream and downstream.

Remove the complexity of product identification, soil classifications, quality standards and the like by use of effective visual boards in the work area.

For positions that are more highly technical or complicated, relying on a high level of specific steps, a printed playbook or reference book may be helpful. Laminate the pages, mount them in the work area, and teach your employees how to reference them as they learn the new job.

PRUDENTIAL OVERALL SUPPLY ACHIEVES RANKING ON SELLING POWER'S ANNUAL "50 BEST COMPANIES TO SELL FOR" LIST IN 2021

Prudential Overall Supply, a leading company in the reusable textile industry, announced that it has ranked #4 on the Selling Power 50 Best Companies to Sell For 2021 List. This is the fourth consecutive year that Prudential has been recognized on this list. This is the 21st consecutive year the ranking has been published by Selling Power.

Selling Power magazine founder and publisher Gerhard Gschwandtner says, "The companies who earned a spot on this year's list have truly world-class sales organizations," says Gschwandtner. "In addition to providing superior onboarding and ongoing sales training, they quickly pivoted their strategy to give their sales reps the tools and skills they needed to succeed in today's digital, remote selling environment."

To assemble this year's 50 Best list Selling Power's research team created a thorough application where they gathered data across four main categories:

- Compensation and benefits
- Sales culture
- Onboarding and sales enablement strategies
- Sales training and coaching

Companies were ranked in each of the categories above to determine the final list. The methodology is the product of years of research, and Selling Power continues to refine the approach each year. Almost all the companies featured on the list invested in and offered thorough training specific to virtual selling in response to the pandemic. The list encompasses companies of all sizes - with sales forces ranging from fewer than 100 salespeople to companies with sales-force numbers in the thousands.

REPURPOSING TEXTILES

CHRIS WELCH (12/14/1995) President of Prudential Overall Supply, discusses the company's commitment to sustainability through its Clean Green certification, and how its focus on eco-friendly practices led to its collaboration with Ambercycle, a TRSA supplier partner committed to recycling textile goods, led by CEO Shay Sethi. For more informatino about TRSA Clean Green certification, visit www.cleangreen.org.

AMERICAN LAUNDRY NEWS HIGHLIGHTS OUR PRESIDENT, CHRIS WELCH

When CHRIS WELCH (12/14/1995) President of Prudential Overall Supply based in Irvine, California, pictures a laundry leader, he envisions a person with a solid understanding of his/her customers and employees and what the company's value proposition to both groups is.

"I think it's important to have clear channels of communication flowing in all directions within the business and encourage idea generation; even if every idea won't be acted upon, it will be actively listened to," he says.

"Also, being worthy of others' trust and executing on your commitments to them and having a vision of the future that inspires others to help bring the vision to fruition."

While laundry leaders need to embrace the qualities all three mentioned, COVID-19 has affected what makes a good leader today and what future leadership needs to understand.

ARTA STUDIES PASS PEER REVIEW THE SAFETY OF REUSABLE TEXTILES AND THE ECONOMIC IMPACT OF CLEANROOM TEXTILES

A literature review on the safety of reusable textiles over the past 50 years and a study on the economic impact of reusable cleanroom textiles are the latest peer-reviewed placements.

Two ARTA papers have been accepted via the peer-review process with publish dates TBD. Peer review is the standard that determines whether research, a study, or literature review is considered scientifically valid. Without the peer-review stamp of approval, data is considered anecdotal.

— The Safety Record of Reusables Over 50 Years (1970 – 2020) is accepted and will run in the Journal of Infection Control and Hospital Epidemiology. The paper defines and shows that the incidence of links of reusables to Healthcare Acquired Infections (HAI) (proven and unproven) is inconsequential.

— Paper on the National Economic and Environmental Benefits of Reusable in Cleanroom Textiles has been approved. This will run in the PDA Journal of Pharmaceutical Science and Technology.

Both of these works were conducted by Environmental Clarity, a research firm specializing in life cycle assessment and textiles. The ARTA Cleanroom Committee oversaw the economic impact study on cleanroom textiles. ARTA's LCA Committee will begin work on economic impact studies related to isolation and surgical gowns. ARTA will make copies of these works available to members as soon as published.

BY: Nancy Jenkins, ARTA Executive Director

NEW PEER-REVIEWED PAPER REVEALS SAVINGS OF 58% WHEN CLEANROOMS CHOOSE RESUABLE GARMENTS

Now published in the peer-reviewed PDA Journal of Pharmaceutical Science and Technology is the first economic impact report on cleanroom garments. The study was conducted for ARTA's Cleanroom Committee by Environmental Clarity (EC) and reveals that annually cleanrooms can save 58% on garment costs when they choose reusable garments versus disposable ones.

ARTA began conducting life cycle analyses (LCAs) for the industry in 2013 in conjunction with EC. Since then, LCAs have been completed on isolation and surgical gowns, as well as incontinence pads. To date, all the LCAs have proven that reusable textiles are the environmentally sustainable choice versus disposable items. A new LCA is now underway for microfiber cleaning products.

UP NEXT: ECONOMIC IMPACT STUDIES FOR ALL ARTA LCAS
The next step in this work is to gather and share data on the economic impact of choosing reusable versus disposable isolation and surgical gowns, incontinence pads, and microfiber cleaning products. Combined with the environmental benefits of reusables, these reports will make a compelling case for reusables!

WHY IS PEER-REVIEW IMPORTANT?

Peer review is the standard that determines whether research, a study, or literature review is considered scientifically valid. Without the peer-review stamp of approval, data is considered anecdotal.

ARTA is building a library of peer-reviewed research on textile products, which allows the textile services industry to irrefutably claim that reusable textiles are the sustainable choice — because the future is NOT disposable!

2021 1ST HALF CLEANROOM DISTRICT RANKING

It is hard to believe that another 6 months have gone by and we are now just a few months away from closing out 2021. Before that, it is imperative that we recognize the top performers in the Cleanroom Division with our "District Ranking Report". Some unprecedented challenges we faced in 2020 continued in 2021, but the Division shined through them all again and helped Prudential retain its strength. The Sales and Service group had to continue to resolve to creative measures, and be resilient during the first half of 2021.

Although every District is recognized for a great year, we especially recognize the top performers. This half was a LA Cleanroom podium sweep, with the top three spots going to the three SSMs at P15(LACR).

#1 ANTHONY URIBE (08/27/2018) Sales & Service Manager of Los Angeles Cleanroom is at the top of the Division Ranking. Anthony achieved the #1 rank for Net Merchandize Cost, SOP %, and CVs. Anthony started with Prudential just 3 years ago as an MPTP and this was his first full 12 months in his district. In this short time Anthony was able to take the top spot in the CR division. I am excited to wait and see what Anthony will do in the years to come. Being one of the most competitive, resourceful and driven individuals I know, this will just drive Anthony even harder to hold on to the #1 spot in the division. He just happens to have significant competition at his plant and across the division to drive him. Congratulations, and Thank You Anthony.

#2 JOSH MONTES Sales & Service Manager also of Los Angeles Cleanroom, achieved the #1 rank for District Revenue, Net Merchandize Cost, SOP %, and CVs which propelled him to the #2 spot in the Division. Josh's organizational skills, consistency and resilience has a lot to do with his success. Josh continues to push himself and his fellow SSMs at LACR. Great Job Josh and looking forward to seeing you push for the #1 spot by the end of 2021. Congratulations and Thank You Josh.

#3 MICHAEL PETROVITCH (04/24/2017) Sales & Service Manager also of Los Angeles Cleanroom achieved the #1 rank for Net Merchandize Cost, SOPs and Business Retention which propelled him to the #3 rank in the Division. Michael is familiar with this ranking report as he took the #1 spot at the end of last year. Michael being super competitive, will definitely give Anthony and Josh some hard competition to take the top spot back by the end of the year. Congratulations and Thank You Michael.

If you ask, all three top achievers will tell you that their success is not possible without the continued leadership, support and guidance of Xenia Medina(Senior SSM), Gaby Segura(OM), Vigny Sonzeu (AE), Darrell Robbins(Plant Manager), Sandra Marts(GM) and the entire LA Cleanroom Team. All three SSMs from the same plant ranked at the top is no accident. Thank You LA Cleanroom.

Special Recognition to Richmond(P70) SSM Lee Walton, and Austin(P50) SSM Kyle Stowers for ranking #4 and #5 respectively. They are not too far behind and have the opportunity to take the top spot. I look forward to them pushing through in the second half of 2021 and jumping on the podium.

"You don't have to be great to start, but you have to start to be great"

A trailer that previously sat in one of the two Distribution Center receiving bays to the right. We use the trailer as garment storage, but in reality it was also taking up one of the two shipping/receiving bays so we only had one bay to work out of. Sometimes, there would be a truck unloading and another delivery would arrive so they could not deliver to us. On occasion, the waiting delivery driver would actually drive off with our shipment as the driver couldn't wait around.

The "after" once we removed the trailer in order to utilize both bays. No more "missed deliveries" due to the DC only having one bay available so it was a 100% pickup to our delivery and pick up operations = Speed to Market!

Our DC team in action receiving an overseas shipping container packed with much needed aprons for our industrial plants. You can see how the merchandise arrives (broken boxes, etc) so our team has their work cut out for them putting the broken cases back together.

Some of our DC team members after several hours of unloading all of the apron boxes. Next step, building pallets with the specific types of color aprons to ship to our industrial plants!

VeteransDay We are grateful for our veterans who have dedicated their lives to protecting our country. In honor of Veteran's Day, we interviewed Mike Blazek, Director of Operations at our Corporate Office in Irvine, CA.

"As a young man I grew up in a small town in Iowa. I soon realized that going to college was not for me, so I joined the United States Marine Corps in 1982. In my time of service I was a Q311 Rifleman in the Infantry and guarded weapons at the Concord Naval Weapons Station. I later was assigned to an Infantry unit in Camp Pendleton. Soon after leaving the military, I applied to be a Stockroom Supervisor. I was offered the position of Customer Sales Representative. The Marine Corps instilled leadership skills and a strong understanding of team spirit that I was later able to apply to civilian life and in my career with Prudential Overall Supply. I have had the opportunity to work with some really good people and great supervisors. It's that supportive environment and strong team around me that has allowed me to grow within the company to where I am today. I am eternally grateful for all the opportunities Prudential Overall Supply has provided me." - Mike B.

They offer residential and commercial plumbing solutions. They are a multi-location/multi-plant account in Ventura, Chatsworth and San Diego. The VP, Sean Collins said that they didn't want to be that typical "plumber look" As they wanted to present a non-traditional plumber style. So we designed a uniform that they were comfortable in yet professional:

- TECHNICIANS - Industrial shirts and black Mimix pants
- INSTALLERS - Light grey Mimix shirts and black Mimix pants
- INTERNAL MANAGERS - Navy blue Mimix shirts and black Mimix pants

You might have seen a new face out on route! Lina Dominguez, Personal Manager out of Prudential's Corporate Services, did a ride along with one of our Irvine, CA Plant's most tenured Customer Sales Representative, Dean Casario. We think it's important that all positions understand the core of our business through the hard work our CSRs do everyday for our customers.

Austin Cleanroom Plant held their Fall Festival. They had a catered meal from our customer Pollo Rico, a hours worth of Mariachi's (with some dancing!), washer and bean bag boards, and we handed out our anniversary certificates including VIRGINIA AGUERRO, our longest tenured employee, with 24 years.

A good time was had by all!

I wanted to congratulate ALEJANDRO VACA (02/03/2020) Maintenance Supervisor from the Phoenix Plant for completing his schooling and obtaining a certificate in Electro-mechanical technologies and HVAC from RSI in Phoenix. Alejandro also passed his EPA Section 608. Alejandro started with Prudential in 2020 with little experience. He moved from California to Phoenix for the opportunity to enter a new career. During his first year here at Prudential, Alejandro juggled long work weeks, weekends and projects while being a full time student. We appreciate his hard work and commitment to his craft and career. Unfortunately Alejandro didn't use our tuition reimbursement program, which we encourage all of our maintenance mechanics to use. Technology is advancing and we need to keep our skills sharp. Alejandro fell in love with his new career and plans to use the tuition reimbursement program to further his knowledge and skills. Once again congratulations baby bro proud of you!!!! - LUIS VACA, JR. (10/06/2014) Regional Maintenance Engineer, Corporate Services

Next time you see LINA DOMINGUEZ (02/25/2008) Personnel Manager and JANA COMER (01/16/2017) Vice President of Finance around the Corporate Office please congratulate them on their memorable achievement of attaining United States citizenship! Congratulations ladies!

Congrats!

Great news!!!

To all,
We started the first week of March... and just completed the last of our 2021 ISO audits.

Thank you everyone who was involved. Your contribution to the company and to the audits is, and was, greatly appreciated.

During the final Out Briefing... Joe Chi, our auditor, identified the three things that most impressed him about his time with Prudential.

I want to share those with you now.

- First... he believes Prudential really excels at being a "people-centered" organization.
- Second... he was impressed at how involved Prudential management was (at all levels in the business) and how focused we are on our people.
- Third... he was taken by how highly employees (in all areas of the business) spoke about Prudential... and by the longevity of so many of our employees.

Joe's been auditing for many years and has worked with many, many companies over the years. I could tell... he genuinely admires this company... not only for what we do... but more importantly... for how we treat and respect each other.

That's rare these days... and a real testament to Dan and John Clark's leadership.

Thank you both for the example you set and for making Prudential a great place to work.

As for the last of the seven audits... Corporate Services is complete.

It too was a very thorough and in-depth audit.

Corporate Services also did a great job and passed their audit with only 3 Minors.

Great job Corporate Services!

Joe ended by thanking the Quality Staff for their support over the past three months of audits

To that... I want to add my personal thanks to Kristin and Bill for all of the work and support you've given me and the sites towards this success. Thank you.

Best Regards, SUE ADAMS (09/28/2020) Director of Quality, Corporate Services

PRUDENTIAL OVERALL SUPPLY HOLDS FIRM ON PRICE COMMITMENTS TO CUSTOMERS.

Prudential wants to share these benefits with customers and prospective customers so that they are aware of our programs.

Prudential Overall Supply, a leading company in the reusable textile industry, proudly announced that it is honoring its customer pricing commitments despite today's extraordinary inflation pressure.

Prudential's President Chris Welch comments, "As current supply chains are strained and both labor and inventories are limited, our Company is faced with pricing pressure across the board. Though some competitors in our industry surrender to these inflationary pressures by arbitrarily raising prices, Prudential has chosen to hold firm on the pricing commitments we have made to our customers."

Mr. Welch continues, "The price guarantee, given by our Chairman Dan Clark, is not taken lightly by our Company and we intend to honor this commitment. We believe keeping our word today will resonate with our existing and prospective customers when they consider who they want to partner their business with in the future."

LEONARD MCALLISTER (08/06/2007)
Sr Dir of Engineering

Congratulations Leonard on your 15th work anniversary. Adding his 1st round with Prudential, he has close to 25 years with us. Over the years, Leonard has been and continues to be the backbone of Production and Engineering department. You won't typically see him in his office, as he is mostly in the plants trying to help figure out some complex problems or help coach Engineering/maintenance staff. Thank you Leonard for everything you do for us and Congratulations once again.

15 years

JOE SHARMA (09/04/2006)
Director of Operations

We are proud to announce that Joe Sharma will start earning 4-week vacation starting September 04, 2021, he is celebrating his 15th! Anniversary with the Company. If you do not know Joe that well, you might not know he was originally hired as an MPTP on April 26, 2001, over 20 years ago, after serving proudly in the US military. The military provided him with the GI Bill, which helped pay for his college. After a little over 5 years and various stints in our Company that took him all the way to Mesa P23, he had a break in service for a short period and came back as the AGM for plant 09/10. Yes, in those hard years many of our cleanroom plants were low on revenue and terribly short on profits. This could not justify a dedicated GM. Phoenix 22/23, Milpitas 09/10 and LA 05/10 were combined. Heck, some of these plants then did not have a single office person! Making one dollar was our battle cry....

The mission was clear. We had to grow, and if we did, there would be opportunity within, few understood this better than Joe. So, he made it his mission to keep every customer and help sell new ones, while improving operations. He was so successful, in March 2013 the Company was able to dedicate a full time GM back into Plant 10 and nobody was better suited and ready than Joe. With the expansion into Oregon, he added the brand-new Service Center 60 to his resume. Thus, Joe got promoted to GM over both plants 10 & 60 which might help explain his fondness for Plant 60, as you can find him up there quite often. Once you help start a new location, it stays close to you, doesn't it Joe?

Only a few short years later, Joe was promoted in January 2017 to what then was called a Regional Manager, later renamed more appropriately Director of Operations. During Joe's tenure as Director, few, if any, Directors have had more OAA's (Outstanding Achievement Awards). No other region made more money and showed higher profitability than Joe's Region.

We are very proud of his leadership and contributions to Prudential and are already looking forward to his next steps, starting with introducing Industrial Operations into Oregon and Washington very soon. Thank you, Joe, for all your contributions and leadership!!! Congratulations on your well-deserved 4-week vacation and more importantly, 15 years with the Company!! We are excited you are on our team.

I want to take this time to thank everyone for all the support I received during the time that I have worked at Prudential. Some people deserve special recognition from me for the support I received from them. Rich Perry, Dana McCallister, Christian Murray, Rudy Robles, Brad Schacherl, Mike Blazek, Myles Reukema, Jerry Martin, James Grady & Ademar Nunes & Tory.

To all Plant 71 employees, thank you for your hard work and support. It is because of all of you that the facility is successful and on a very personal level, it is all of you that made me successful.

To all of Corporate, the DC, all of my peers, and the GM's that have supported me in the past, Thank you all for your efforts and more importantly for your friendship.

From a very personal perspective, I want to say thank you to Dan and John Clark. You have a very successful business model that lends it self to continuous renewals for simply doing a good job. At the same time, you have created a work environment that is enjoyable, friendly and helpful with ample opportunities for growth. Congratulations, putting the people first is truly something to be proud of and something I am grateful for.

I also want to offer one piece of advice to everyone. I am sure you have all heard the cliché "Life is an adventure". Well, it truly is. I have been fortunate in my career to have traveled all over the world. I have met many fascinating people and made many friendships, all of which I am truly grateful for. Like everyone, I have seen tremendously wonderful times in my life, as well as some difficult times that seemed to consume me. So, my advice is to celebrate the good times, realize that the tough times, are temporary. Everything changes, so...

When it comes to a good "work, life balance", if you don't have it, pursue it until you find it and then live it.
Always keep your family and your health first.
Always remember that you do not live to work, you work to live.

Everyone has 100% to give, but only you get to decide how to divide it up, so be careful not to let any one thing consume you.

Finally, I wish you all much success in your careers, much happiness for you and your families, and the best of health always.

Thanks for the memories,

Rick

JOHN THOMPSON
(02/16/1993)
*Executive Vice President
Corporate Services*

After a long and illustrious career, John Thompson has informed us that he will be retiring from Prudential at the end of February 2022. John joined Prudential in 1993 as Vice President Finance and assumed responsibility for the Accounting, Finance, IT, and Personnel departments.

Some of the many highlights of his 28 year career include: Navigating the Y2K transition; overseeing the conversion from the AS 400 computer system to Oracle and ABS; successfully defending the company during several IRS tax audits; participating in multiple Company acquisitions; and transitioning the Employee Welfare Benefit plan from self-administration to the current Anthem platform. In addition, John has reviewed and approved numerous complex customer contracts and interfaced with legal counsel.

John was promoted to Executive Vice President in 2018 and has worked as a trusted advisor to the Clark family, ensuring the successful transition of Prudential into its third generation of private ownership and operation. He has accepted an invitation to join the Board of Directors and will retain his position as Chairman of the Profit Sharing Committee.

On a personal note, I am grateful for the last two years I have been blessed to work with John. His steady approach and sage counsel have been of great comfort during the incredible turbulence the Company has worked through and he has made my transition into my new role much easier than it might have otherwise been. I will miss his keen wit and fantastic sense of humor and wish him nothing but happiness in his retirement.

Congratulations John on a fantastic career and all the best to you and Nancy in the years ahead!

IN MEMORIAM

JAIME QUINONEZ (12/02/2013)

Customer Sales Representative, Carson Plant

We regret to inform our Prudential family of the passing of a beloved CSR at Plant 04, Jaime Quinonez. Jaime started his career with Prudential Overall Supply in 2013 as a CSR, servicing the greater Los Angeles, Malibu, Venice Beach and Santa Monica area. Jaime was a repeat 1932 member and was known to go above and beyond for his customers. He was admired by both coworkers and his customers, as he always displayed a positive and humorous attitude. He was a very punctual person, who always said, "There is always time for coffee". Jaime was known for brightening his workplace by making everyone laugh. Jaime was a huge 49ers and Dodger fan, and he frequently attended games. He will be greatly missed. Jaime is survived by his wife Norma, and two beautiful children. He will be greatly missed.

In Loving Memory of Ernie Macias

ERNIE MACIAS

(10/09/2017)

*Sales & Service Manager
Riverside Plant*

Unfortunately, as many of you may have heard, Riverside Sales and Service Manager, Ernie Macias, passed away on Saturday after being hospitalized last week. He is survived by his wife, Melissa, and two sons, EJ (16) and Danny (15). The family is doing as well as can be expected and thankfully have an extensive support network of family and friends helping them get through this incredibly tough time. One thing you may not have known about Ernie is that he was the founder and President of a car club that spans the world, so that has created an outpouring of support through a GoFundMe campaign.

At his wife's request, I wanted to pass along the family's sincere appreciation for the Clark family, Chris Welch, and Prudential Overall Supply as a whole. When Ernie first got sick, they did not have to worry about his job, thanks to the benefits and overall support provided by the Company. Though Ernie had only been with the Company four years, he had planned to retire here, citing the culture and overall opportunity the Company provided for his family.

Thank you again on behalf of the Macias family and from me personally. Ernie was a stellar employee, but more importantly, a great man and friend. The overwhelming support from the Company only reinforces my already highly held belief that this is the best place to work, and every person is genuinely appreciated.

Thank you again to the Clark family and Prudential Overall Supply.
